Dedication

It is with deep appreciation and gratitude for our new Junior-Senior High School building and new equipment that we dedicate this 1963 Yearbook

To You . . . the COMMUNITY for the confidence you have shown in the youth by providing facilities for our Education

To You . . . the BOARD OF EDUCATION for your leadership and farsighted planning

To You . . . the STUDENTS whose responsibility it will be to dedicate yourselves to higher ideals and greater achievements.

. . . The Staff

Okemah Junior-Senior High School

Dedication of Junior-Senior High School

Dr. Jack Wilkes, President, Oklahoma City University, gives the Dedicatory Address.

Cecil E. Oakes, Supt.; Dr. Jack Wilkes, Rev. Finley Reid, Jerome J. Zumwalt, Prin.; Mr. Dick Biggs, Rev. W. H. Bradley, Mrs. Gladys Ryan, Pres.; Board Members: Harry Scoufos Jr., John Palmer, Jack Jenkins, Roger Standley; Harry Rountree, Consulting Engineer; R. Paul Heap, Architect.

A welcome to the Dedication and Open House is extended by Mrs. S. G. Ryan, President of the School Board, and Mr. C. E. Oakes, Superintendent.

Among the patrons and guests who pause to visit and refresh in the library are the former teachers and students of Okemah High School.

The modern science laboratory is just one of the 18 classrooms visited by friends during Open House and American Education Week. The 8 work stations in this laboratory will accommodate 32 students.

In CONGRESS July 4th

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

ADMINISTRATION

Board of Education

MR. CECIL E. OAKES
Superintendent of Schools

MR. JOHN PALMER

MR. ROGER E. STANDLEY
MR. JACK JENKINS

MR. HARRY SCOUFOS JR.
MR. MAX ABERSON

Their years of dedicated service will serve as a lasting reminder for us to be worthy of our places in the adult world of responsibility.

Dear Students:

The completion, occupancy and dedication of the practical and beautiful new Junior-Senior High School during this school year should make it a year long remembered by all pupils now enrolled in the Okemah Schools. This gift to you, and to students of future years, is proof that your parents and other citizens of our community are vitally interested in your future, they have faith in you.

Like all new school buildings, your Junior-Senior High School is dedicated to learning. The building provides the proper atmosphere for learning, and I feel certain that most of you have given the study and cooperation necessary to make this year a profitable one for you.

In choosing BOOKS as the yearbook theme, the annual staff selected the subject that is essential to all learning. A reader of good books has knowledge about, and understanding of, the world in which he lives and works.

I commend each of you for completing this year of school and for the advancement you have made. Continue to appreciate and use educational opportunities afforded you with a real zest for knowledge. I want you to be prepared to enjoy a happy, successful, and useful life.

Sincerely,

Becill Lakes

Principal's Message

Dear Students:

To the graduates I would like to extend congratulations on reaching a very prized and valuable goal in your life. Our hope for the future lies in you, therefore, I urge you to set your educational goals higher and to continue your studies. The knowledge you have acquired in the past will be of great value to you and to our nation because we are in an age where education holds the key to the future. The administration and faculty feel that we have a stake in your future, it will make us proud to see you succeed.

To the undergraduates I extend congratulations on your past achievements and best wishes for the future. The instruction and training you are receiving will enable you to reach your niche in life.

May each of you enjoy the prosperity which comes from a task well done and the peace which comes from a life well lived.

Sincerely,

Jerome J. Zumwalt

A Word From the Editors

DIANA FISHER, Editor

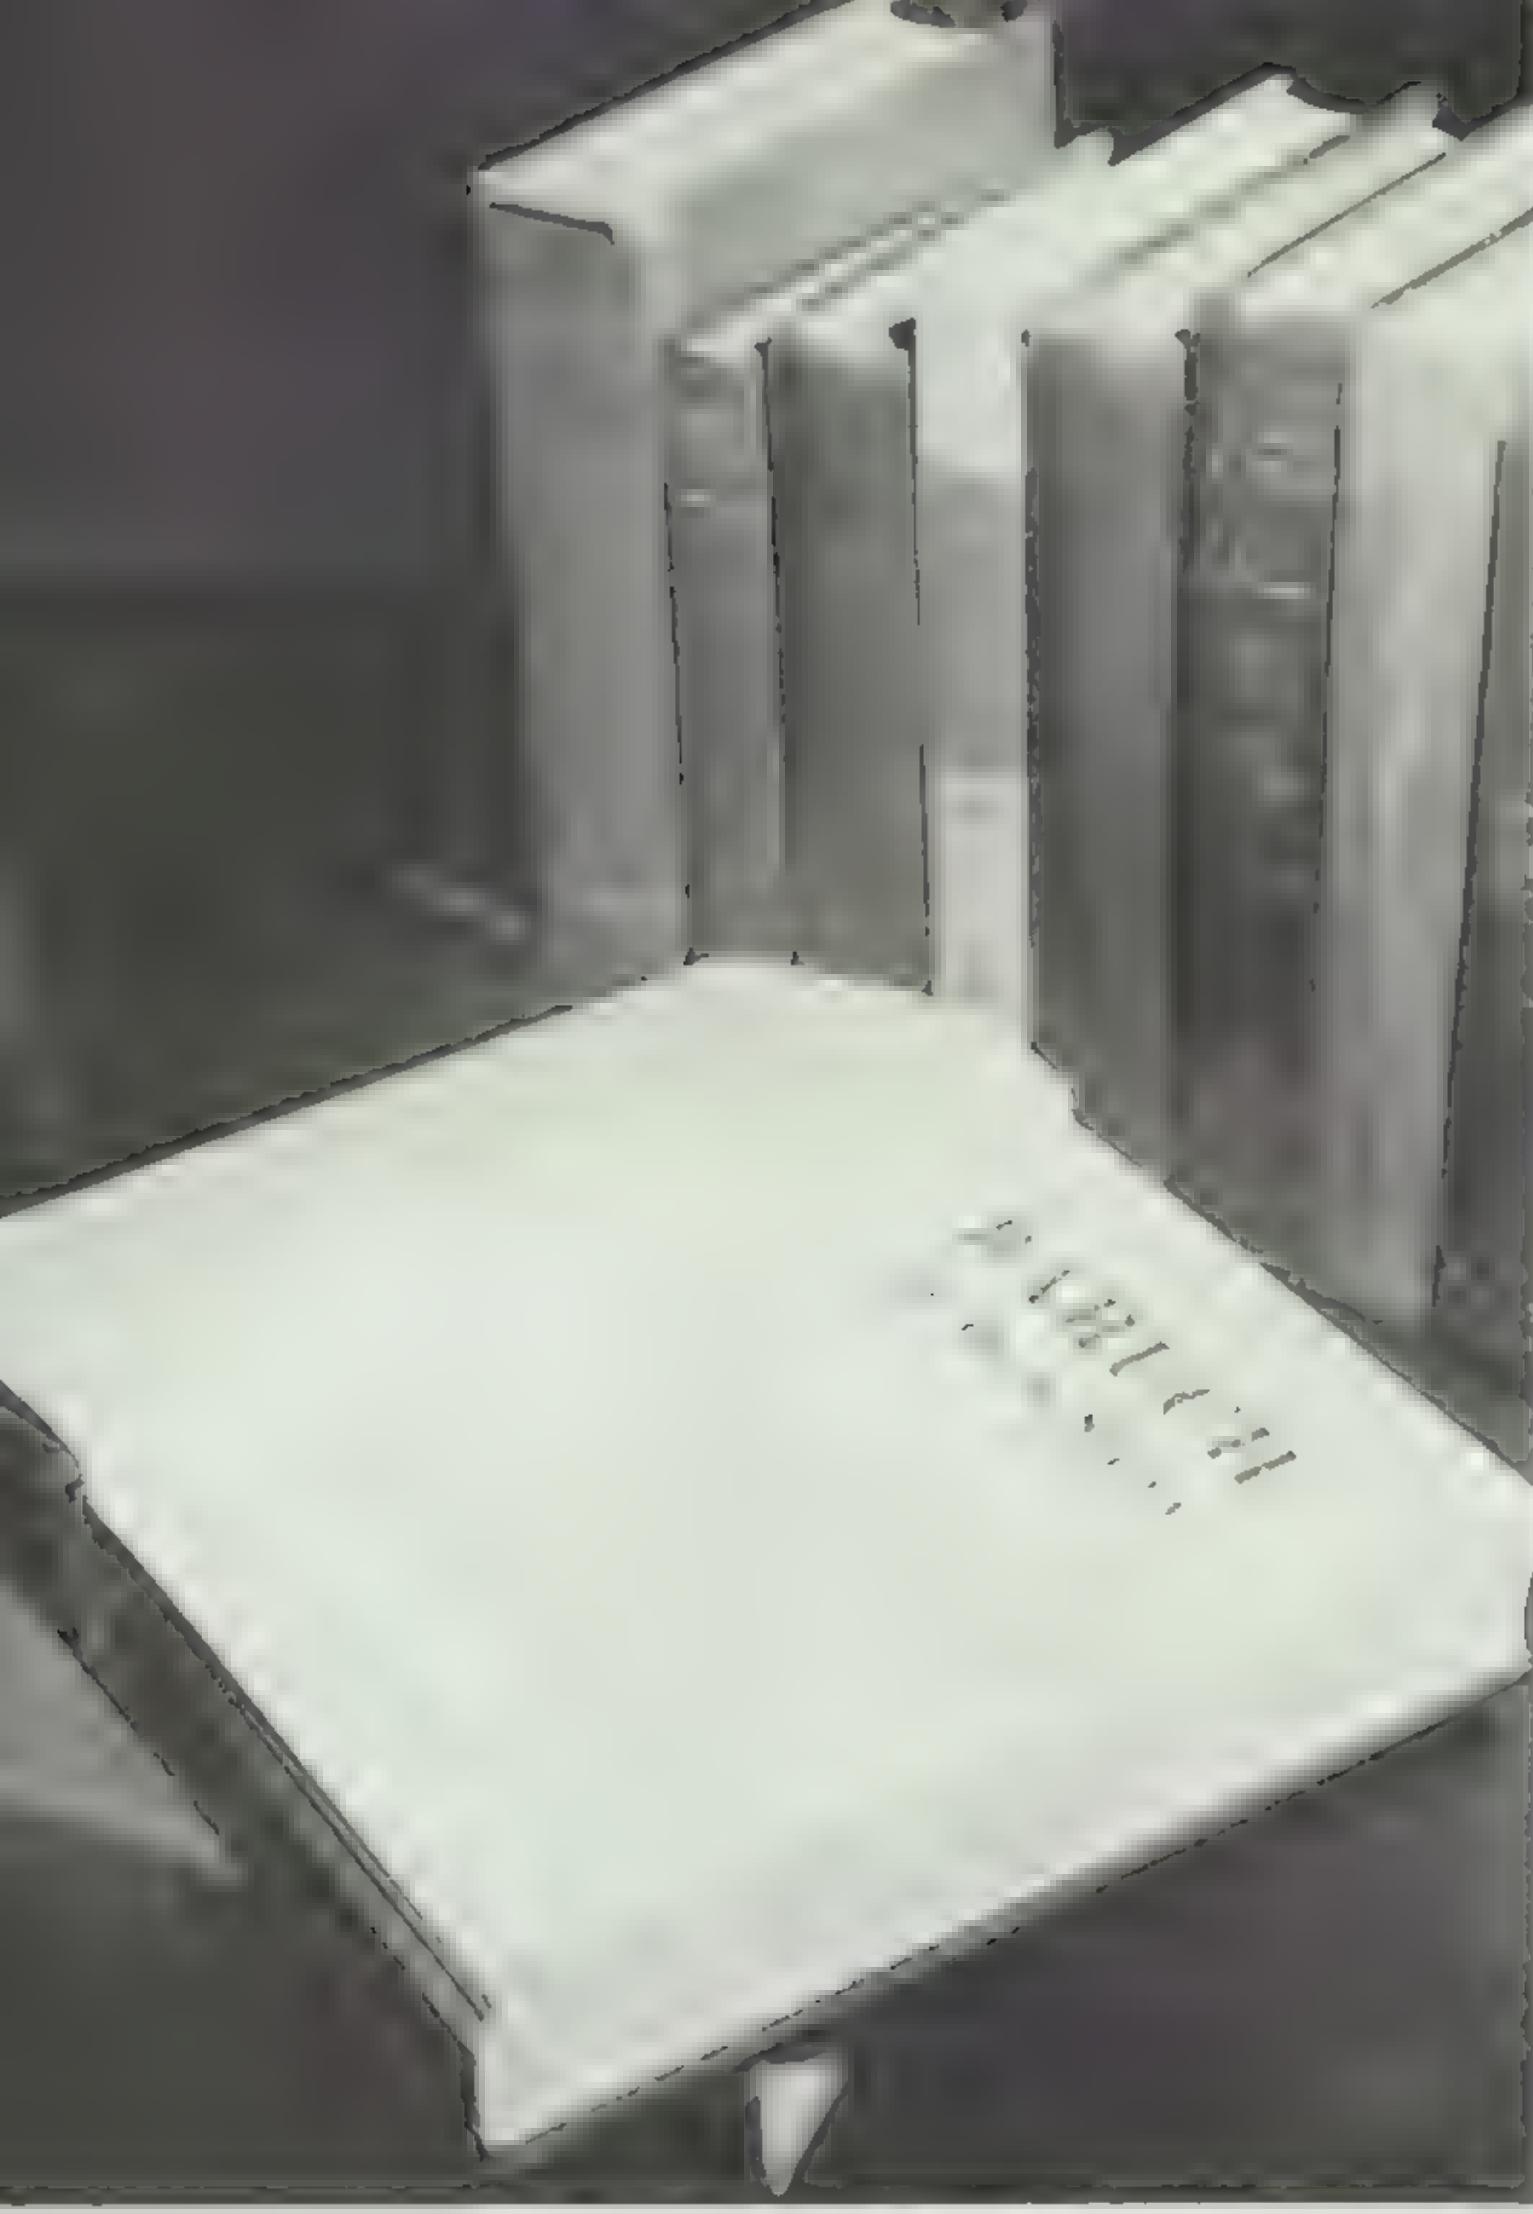

KAYE STANDLEY, Co-Editor

"BOOKS and libraries and the will to use them are among the most important tools our nation has to diffuse knowledge and to develop powers of creative wisdom."

The community public library is one of the richest and most enduring assets of our HISTORICAL HERITAGE." - John F. Kennedy Education the American way is founded upon these truths. We realize that training of young people for good citizenship is based upon freedom for the inquiring mind. Our 1963 Panther seeks to bring to you a fuller understanding of the influences at the Okemah Schools, as students are steadily molded into tomorrow's citizens.

May many happy memories be stirred, and may this edition be an inspiration and joy to all who have passed this way and those who are yet to come.

ACTIVITIES

"There she is, MISS OKEMAH HIGH"

Homecoming Royalty Highlights Assembly

Preceding the Homecoming Parade the Homecoming Royalty was introduced in an assembly presented by the Thespian Club. Sharon Minnick, '61 Queen, acted as Master of ceremonies. She was assisted by Janie Hall, '60 Queen, and accompanist Mary Reilly.

An original skit set the mood for the cheerleaders who ended the assembly with spirits in Tip-Top shape.

Presented in assembly are Mary Ann Gordon, Junior Attendant; Karen McElroyton, Sophomore Attendant; by Tommy Klutts and Jim Fox.

Coach (Del McGraw) consults soothsayer (Janie Hall) in desperate effort to upset the opposing team.

The fortune teller's prediction - a huge funeral.

The Senior Class float, "Let's Bury Stroud," brought them the third place prize.

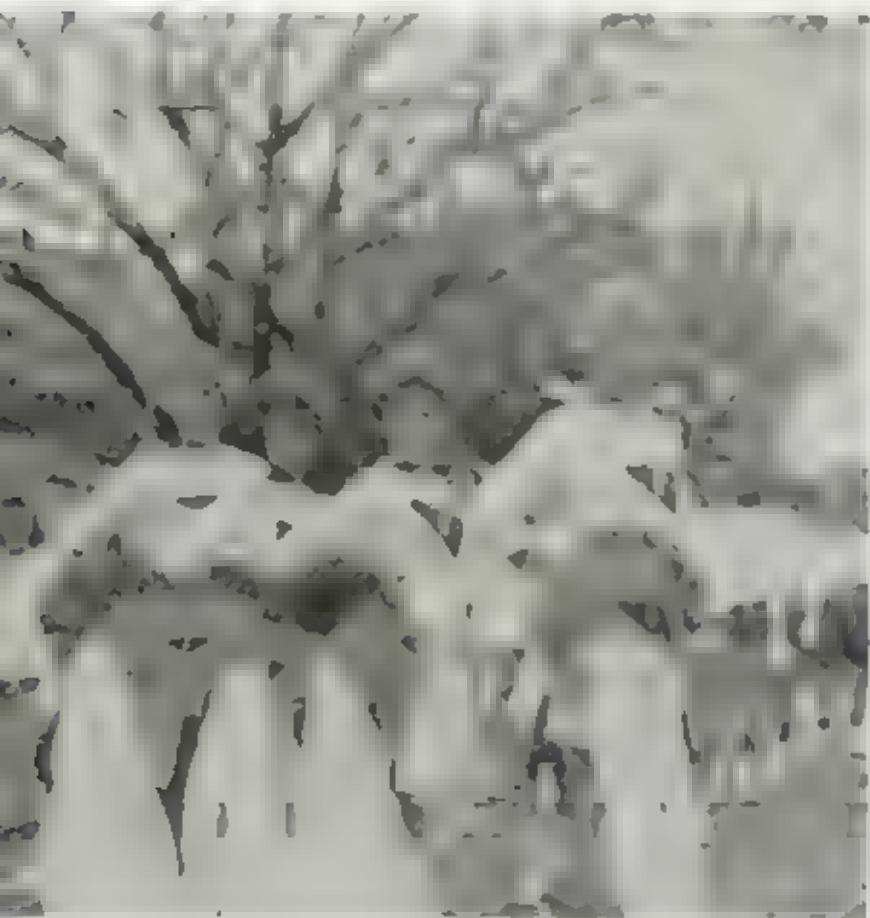

The Key Club's 1st place float with a theme of "Butcher 'Em."

Okemah High School Band Leads Homecoming Parade

The cheerleaders get ready for the big parade.

The Jr. High cheerleaders do their share in the big parade.

The queen and her attendants add highlights to the homecoming parade.

The Spanish Club wins 2nd place in the float competition with their theme, "Abajo Stroud - Viva Okemah" or "Down with Stroud - Long live Okemah."

Emily appears as Spirit at the graveyard. She meets her mother-in-law, Mrs. Gibbs, and many others of "Our Town."

Choir Director, Mark Smyth, with Mary M. Reilly, Accompanist, rehearse for Emily Webb and George Gibbs' wedding.

Emily's cousin, Sam Craig, (Don Anderson) visits graveyard with undertaker Joe Stoddard, (Lucky Ott) and recall Grover's Corner some 20 years ago.

These students placed in the Interscholastic Meet to help win the Interscholastic Trophy and the Art Trophy. Okemah High School now has a total of 10 Interscholastic Trophies (8 won consecutively) and 2 Art Festival Trophies.

Mrs. Gaile Hodges, secretary to the Superintendent, is really personal secretary to all of us. She not only takes care of our activity fund, but she takes care of lunch tickets, sells pencils and paper for our convenience, and dispenses aspirins for all school headaches.

Selecting a theme, deciding on the cover, planning the layouts, identifying pictures, and typing the copy---from sessions such as this comes your '63 Yearbook.

These girls give up a study hall to do clerical work for Noble Elementary. They are Deborah Warn, seated. Teresa Warn, Laura Harkey, Linda Stovall, Gerry Dodson, Brenda Simpson, Mr. Henry, Principal.

School Librarians

Under the supervision of Mrs. McGraw these librarians keep track of some 4,100 books as they serve both Junior and Senior High Students.

The Spanish Club is sponsored by Mrs. Lois Craig. An annual event enjoyed by the members is the State Spanish Fiesta, at which the State Queen is chosen. The club promotes understanding and stimulates interest in the Spanish culture and language.

1963 Homemaker of Tomorrow

Diana Fisher distinguished herself by demonstrating outstanding qualities of homemaking in a test given for the Betty Crocker Award. As Homemaker of Tomorrow from our school, Diana has the opportunity to compete for State honors and perhaps for All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

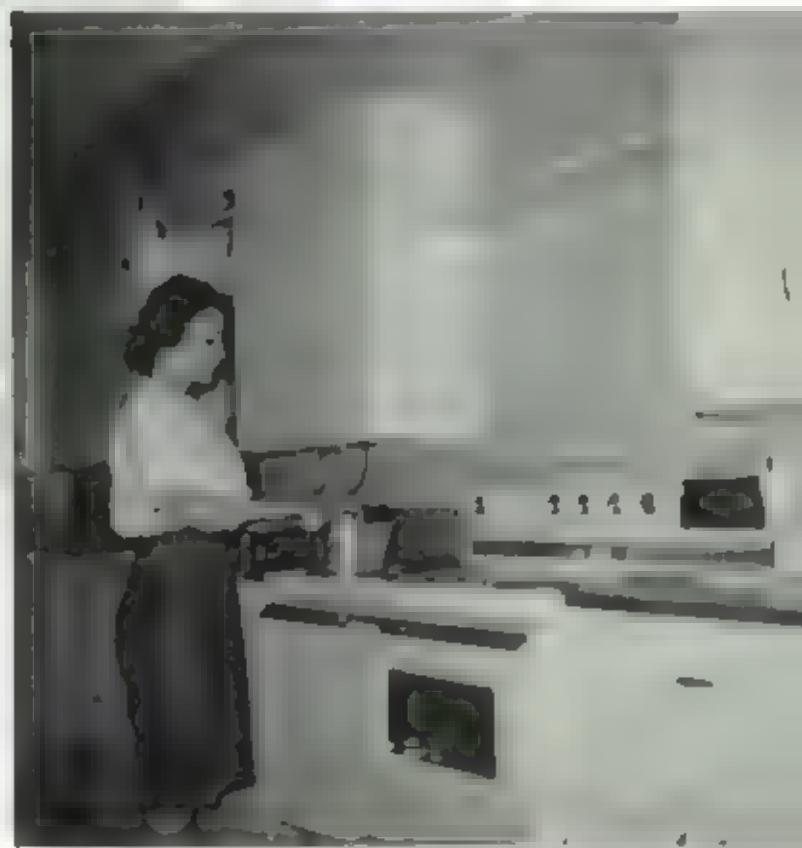

Congratulations, Diana!

This isn't an everyday job,
but just for the record, Bob and Bill polish up the Key Club emblem when they are asked to do so.

Thanks to the many gracious and co-operative business firms of Okemah who have placed ads in the 1963 edition of THE PANTHER.
The staff of this book and the students of Okemah High School wish to express their sincere appreciation to those establishments which have helped to make this expanded yearbook possible.
